

Unitarian Universalist United Nations Office CSW61 Side Event:

“Reproductive Justice & Economic Empowerment”

13 March 2017, 2:30 – 4pm

In the Church Center of the United Nations, Boss Room

Do women have control over their reproductive health?

By addressing social, economic and political barriers women face in terms of the safety of women's reproductive health, we hope to demonstrate and bring attention to the positive impacts family planning has had on women in positions of power.

Our panel discussion aims to create a dialogue about early education of reproductive justice and family planning, as well as advocate for women's equal opportunity in decision-making structures and ensuring their full participation as promoters of economic empowerment.
